PROMOTING RESPONSIBLE
DOG OWNERSHIP

Although every dog has its own personality, many characteristics are more predictable in a purebred:

- Temperament
- Size and energy levels
- Appearance and coat type
- HEALTH

Purebred dogs are commonly screened for many heritable conditions, including distressing eye problems. Most dogs that don't meet the breed requirements are not used in breeding programs.

The only way to be sure you know the full health history of a puppy is to get a pedigreed purebred from a DOGS Victoria (and ANKC) registered breeder.

With almost 200 recognised breeds, you're sure to find at least one that's perfect for your lifestyle.
